Dear Dr. Clark:

The Native American Pharmacy Program would like to support your proposal which seeks funding for a diabetes education project. This project is one of a kind. It provides an opportunity for American Indian people to learn about diabetes and its effects on the American Indian population.

The Native American Pharmacy Program finds that this diabetes education project has a lot to offer our American Indian students who are seeking careers in medicine. They have the opportunity to experience medicine from the American Indian practitioner's perspective, which is not common in this field. The project provides role models as well as information for our students.

Your support of this project will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

Jaclynn Davis Walleto
Program Coordinator
